

Shaping the Future of Citizen Science linking Environment and Health

Agenda: 14th June 2022

Hybrid meeting: online and in-person in Sapienza University of Rome.

Room: Aula Grassi, Dipartimento di Biologia e Biotechnologie Charles Darwin, Anatomia Comparata, Via Borelli 50, 00161 Roma

Free event open to the public, click here for registration

9:00	Welcome and presentation of the session , by Annibale Biggeri, researcher at University of Padua, and Xavier Basagaña, researcher at ISGlobal.
------	---

Introductory talk

9:10	Combination of Citizen Science (CS) and Environmental Epidemiology , by Fleur Froeling, researcher at Utrecht University, and Florence Gignac, researcher at ISGlobal.
------	---

Block 1: Implementing citizen science in the field of environment and health

9:40	Presentation: The experience of the CitieS-Health project , by Xavier Basagaña, researcher at ISGlobal. Concept (co-created projects), what was done in each pilot in terms of co-creation, description of final study implemented (no results), project toolkit, and difficulties and some lessons learned in the COVID-19 pandemics.
10:20	The importance of Citizen Participation in health research and policy , by Marco Martuzzi, Director of the Environment and Health Department at the Italian National Institute for Health and formerly at WHO.
10:45	Bottom-up CS affecting national institutes from the environmental epidemiology perspective , by Janneke Elberse, Research Scientist on Citizen Science and Senior Advisor on Safety, Perception and Behavior at the Dutch National Institute for Public Health and the Environment (RIVM)
11:10	Break

Block 2: From results to policy

Participation of citizens in science as a way to influence policy

Moderated by Rosa Arias - Science for Change and Alba L'Astorina - National Research Council of Italy (CNR - IREA)

11:30	Presentation: Results of CitieS-Health pilot studies and policy links and discussants. Part I. Short presentation by one of the participant researchers and interventions by a citizen/local administrator (30 mins per pilot. Contents / presenters / time for discussion to be decided by each pilot). Barcelona pilot, by Paula Granados, Lucía Paz Errandonea , and Florence Gignac . Ljubljana pilot, by David Kocman.
12:30	Lunch break
13:30	Presentation: Results of CitieS-Health pilot studies and policy links and discussants. Part II. Short presentation by one of the participant researchers and interventions by a citizen/local administrator. Kaunas, Amsterdam and Lucca pilot.
15:00 – 15:30	Coffee break
16.00-16:30	Citizen science and policy making , by Ângela Guimarães Pereira, Leader of the European Commission Competence Centre on Participatory and Deliberative Democracy (CC-DEMOS)
16:30-17:00	Bottom-up approaches citizen engagement in policy making in Environmental Health , by Anne Stauffer, Deputy Director, Strategic Lead, Health and Environment Alliance (HEAL)
17.00-18.00	Open discussion, conclusions and final remarks.

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 824484